Zoë Buckman: So you ring me up from your little Hollywood rag and ask for some custom good-times-had knickers?

May 20, 2016

Multimedia artist Zoe Buckman frequently cites hip-hop and feminism as her two earliest influences. Educated at the International Center for Photography in New York, Buckman always knew she wanted to break out from behind the camera. Her most recent series Every Curve is comprised of 92 pieces of vintage lingerie with lyrics from old school hip-hop songs hand-embroidered on them—including the piece featured here, which Buckman created in the spirit of Good Times.
